Description

From Schignano we climb to Colma di Binate (1107 m, 1.5 km) where we follow the path on the right to nearby Colma Crocetta (1105 m, 2 km). The track goes around the northern side of Sasso Gordona along a former military road, brings us to Intelvi valley and reaches Prabello hut (1167 m, 3.8 km). From there, we walk back for a short stretch until we reach a path on the left that descends steeply, cuts across the meadows beneath, and the woods, finally reaching the Alp of Cerano (also known as Pian delle Alpi - 968 m, 5.8 km). Once we are out of the woods, we hike across the meadow and, once we reach the asphalt road, we turn right, walk past a picnic area and take the mule track on the left to Erbonne. We climb up in the woods and, when we find a fork with a signpost, we leave the mule track and hike to the right towards the grassy plains of Ermogna (1075 m, 7.4 km). We walk on following a cart-way, which gently climbs and descends, pass by a few rural buildings and reach a group of small houses above Casasco (1022 m, 10 km); here we follow the signs and climb to the left, along a track that merges into the asphalt road, and again to the left, climbing to Bruno hut (1150 m, 11.2 km). Behind the building, we follow the flat trail that heads to the right and crosses the meadows of Mount Crocione. As we leave behind the ski lift, the path merges with the mule-track and goes into the woods; at the fork we head left and reach the pass bocca d'Orimento and the Cabin (1278 m, 13.3 km) with the same name. From the pass, we climb down following the main road for a long stretch (some shortcuts may be signalled) and, after two artificial ponds used to give water to livestock, we continue until the picnic area of Alpe Grande (1050 m, 17.1 km). At the fork we take the asphalt road that climbs down to San Fedele d'Intelvi and, at the first bend (Meriggio), we find the signpost that points to the cart-way to San Fedele, to the left. The grassy path cuts through woods and grazing land and takes us to San Fedele di Intelvi.
